Why are you running/supporting Trail To Triumph?

Having met Tony and seeing the amazing work that Mat and the rest of the participants have done over the past few years with TTT, it has inspired me to want to join the cause and raise funds and awareness for mesothelioma. Since Tony passed, I have heard some incredible stories about his generosity and community involvement and I can now see where Mat got it from.

What has been your biggest / favourite running event?

My biggest and favourite event was Gold Coast Marathon 2017. Aside from it being my longest ever run, I managed beat Mat Britton in my first marathon, something I'm sure he'll never let happen again.

What do you like most about running?

The cold beer well earned after the run...

What is your favourite joke?

What did one Kiwi Statue say to the other Kiwi Statue? Sta-tue bro?

What movie title best matches your life?

The Hangover – I am a warm, people-loving person. I love my family and friends, have a wild side, and no matter what, I will always do the right thing at the end. Sure, I'm not quite a grown up yet (at least I don't always act like one), but don't worry, I'll get there!

Do you have any superstitions?

Don't walk under a ladder while its up!

What are the top 3 things on your bucket list?

- Take the family to US to visit Disneyland and see Orcas
- Run in the New York marathon
- Fly in a wing suit

If

you could have one super power, what would it be and what would you do with it?

Ability to fly. I wouldn't have to sit in the hellish peak hour traffic on the Centenary Highway and Western Freeway anymore and be able to drop the kids to their activities and school a whole lot quicker.

What is one thing not many people know about you?

I only started running again in November 2016 after having approx. 3 years off. My longest run prior to November 2016 was 8km.

Favourite Cold Rock combination?

Keeping it simple, Coffee and Salted Caramel. I might throw some crunchie in for a little bit of extra bite.

What would you name your pet ferret?

Raoul

Did you ever meet Tony? Tell us a short story

I met Tony a number of times with a significant number of those times at Coffee Club Springfield Central when they were down from Mackay. Being a lover of coffee myself I was always happy to stop past and see the Brittons and have my double espresso.
